News Around Town

By Mrs. Calvin Robinson

I liked this one:

A lecturer, suspecting that publicity would lessen attendance at repeat performances, asked the reporter of a local paper not to publish his address.

The reporter's version was this: "Mr. Smith delivered an excellent lecture in the church hall. He told some very good stories, but, unfortunately, they cannot be published."

C. Lewis McDearmon, Jr., left Tuesday for V. P. I., Blacksburg, where he is a freshman.

Bill Jamerson left Tuesday, Sept. 18, for Virginia Polytechnic Institute, where he will complete his work in December for his B. S. degree.

Mrs. F. M. Shirey has returned to her home at Spout Spring after undergoing surgery at the Memorial Hospital in Lynchburg. We wish for her a speedy recovery. Mrs. M. A. Mendel left today for Charleston, West Virginia, after visiting her mother, Mrs. Shirey.

Mrs. C. F. James left Saturday for Epes, Alabama, where she will spend some time at the James country home, "Louden." Mrs. James will also visit her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. James, Jr., of Tallahassee, Florida before returning to Appomattox. She was accompanied to Alabama by Miss Julia Martin, who had been a guest in the James home here.

The Appomattox Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet this evening at 8:00 o'clock in the county library. All members are urged to attend. The delegates will be elected at this time to attend the State Convention to be held in Danville October 3, 4 and 5.

The Alice Kyle District, Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, held its annual Board of Directors meeting at Liberty Church Tuesday. The meeting convened at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by the district president, Mrs. Joel W. Flood. Dr. Carl A. Collins, Jr., pastor of Liberty Church gave the devotional. Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Louis Roach, Jr., of Danville, district president of the Junior Woman's Club. Welcome address was by Mrs. Harold Y. Spencer, president of the Woman's Club of Appomattox. Reports by officers and chairmen of departments and divisions were heard and objectives were listed. Luncheon was served by members of the local club, at 1:00 o'clock.

Father Darkleaf found this in a trade publication, reprinted from Fortune Magazine. All you do is to add punctuation marks in order to get a sentence:

John where James had had had had had had had had had had the publishers approval

For the answer, see bottom of this column.

Mrs. Calvin Robinson plans to spend Tuesday in Roanoke, where she will attend a luncheon for lady mayors and councilwomen attending the meeting of the Virginia League of Municipalities. The sessions will be held at Hotel Roanoke. Mrs. Robinson, president of the Appomattox Town Council, will be accompanied to Roanoke by Mrs. Clara Mitchell and Miss Frankie McKinney.

In 1872 when Horace Greeley opposed Gen. Grant for the Presidency, the election was held Nov. 5, and the vote in Appomattox was mighty close: 776 to 734.

Ned Hancock and Billy Conner are lined up for duty this fall as official B. B. football games. Ned was a Group I official last week at the E. C. Glass - Halifax game; Billy was at a Group II game. And Bob by Mitchell serves as an official, too; so Appomattox is well represented in this category.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has a fine project: to arrange for a full page about Appomattox in the Va. Travel Council's booklet on Virginia to be circulated during the Jamestown Festival all during 1957.

We had toyed with the idea of getting out a special promotional section on the Sept. 15 anniversary of the present ownership of this newspaper. That date marked the 25th Year of said ownership. The paper itself is 64 years old. However we finally decided that what an Editor does is not news.

Best wishes to two of our local business men who are now patients in Lynchburg hospitals: C. S. Jenkins and J. C. Simpson.

We forgot to mention that when Senator Estes Kefauver was in Crewe recently, W. C. Averett, local department store owner, was a member of the official welcoming

One of the features of the programs put on by the Future Farmers of America is training in parliamentary procedure. Last Thursday night, at the Lions Club meeting, when there appeared to be a parliamentary tie-up, F. F. A. advisor Henry Pack was on the job to explain parliamentary rules. A knowledge of parliamentary rules is a great asset, and we are glad to know that the F. F. A. boys receive such training.

Interesting angle: Our paper has few (too few) formal "Letters to The Editor" to publish. However a great many of readers drop by to give us the benefit of their views of public events, showing that they keep up with happenings, and have opinions to pass on to the publishers. We are always glad to have such opinions, and thus to know what our readers are thinking.

Two dairies were engaged in an advertising war in a Western city. One of the companies engaged a daredevil racer to drive a car around the town with large placards, reading:

'This Daredevil Drinks Our Milk.'

The rival company came out with placards, twice as large, reading:

'You don't have to be a daredevil to drink our milk.'

Answer to sentence puzzle:

John, where James had had "had had" had had "had"; "had had" had had the publisher's approval.

DEATHS

RAYMOND E. MANN

Raymond Ernest Mann, 44, died Monday, Sept. 17, in the Virginia Baptist Hospital. He had been in declining health for the past five months. He was born in Appomattox County, the son of Walter V. Mann, who survives, and the late Lizzie Henry Mann.

He is also survived by his stepmother, Mrs. Walter V. Mann; his wife, Mrs. Laura V. Giles Mann; one daughter, Helen Marie, and by three sisters, Mrs. Sally Sharp, Mrs. Coy Wooten, and Mrs. Mamie Capelonigh.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 4 P. M. at the Robinson Funeral Home, by Dr. Carl A. Collins, Jr. Burial was in Liberty Cemetery. Pallbearers were Allen T. Giles, Edward Giles, Arthur Blackwell, Fred Godsey, Ray Sharp and Lorton Thomas.

CHANGES LISTED FOR STATE HIGHWAY DEPT.

The State Highway Department today announced that Douglas B. Fugate, of Norfolk, director of toll facilities, will be promoted to assistant chief engineer, effective on October 16.

In this position, Fugate will work with assistant chief engineers William R. Glidden and H. H. Harris.

Fugate's promotion will bring about a number of other personnel changes, the Department said. Elmo H. Orange, resident engineer at Norfolk, will replace Fugate as the person in charge of the various toll facilities operated by the Department.

Paul B. Coldiron, resident engineer at Warrenton, will be transferred to resident engineer at Norfolk; Joseph T. Warren, a secondary roads planning engineer in the Richmond office, will replace Coldiron; Lewis E. Brett, Jr., assistant resident engineer at Fairfax, will take Warren's place; and Paul D. Hertzler, a highway engineer in the Fairfax office, will be promoted to assistant resident engineer there.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL P.-T. A. MEETS TONIGHT

The Appomattox Elementary School P.-T. A. will meet tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the elementary school auditorium. There will be a short business meeting, at which committees will be announced and plans for the year discussed.

A social hour in the cafeteria will follow. At this time parents who have children in the school for the first time will be honored guests.

SOME WORK CAN BE TAKEN OUT OF SILAGE-MAKING JOB

Some of the back-breaking labor can be taken out of the job of putting up silage—if you plan carefully and use as much labor-saving equipment as possible.

G. D. Kite, agricultural engineer at V. P. I., says many farmers are still handling the silage too many times.

For example, if you have an upright silo, he suggests the use of silage unloaders. Be sure the one you buy can be used for both grass and corn silage. Either the chain or shuttle-type conveyors provided in the feed troughs will help.

If you have trench or bunker silos on your farm, consider using a tractor-mounted loader Then it is best to use an 8 or 4-sider feeder, for which plans are available through your county agent. If the silo is wide enough, self-feeding is possible.

HANDLE APPLES CAREFULLY TO PREVENT BRUISING

Bruising of apples is one of the biggest causes of complaints from buyers, report horticulturists at V. P. I.

Repeat sales depend on unbruised, quality fruit, particularly when competition from other states is keen.

Any time an apple drops over six inches, it will be bruised, the horticulturists warn.

Here are some things you can do to reduce bruising:

Start picking with the picking sack at its shallowest depth. Deepen sack as it fills up.

Handle ladders with care around the trees.

Be careful when emptying apples from picking sack to field box.

Avoid filling the field box too full, and handle it carefully when loading and unloading.

MAN AND WIFE TEAM TO EXHIBIT HANDICAPPED SKILL AT STATE FAIR

A handicapped man and wife team from the Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia, Pa., will staff one of five featured exhibit booths at the 1956 Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond, September 20 to 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fagan will demonstrate the work they do on their regular jobs in one of the booths sponsored by the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped. Mrs. Fagan, who is totally blind, is a secretary. She performs her highly technical job with the aid of Braille dictionaries and filing system which she has devised and transcribes letters from a dictating machine. Her husband's job as a machine tool operator keeps him standing most of the time — yet he has only one leg.

Trainees from the Woodrow Wilson Training Center in Fishersville; the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Roanoke, and Goodwill Industries of Richmond, also will be among those represented at the exhibits.

Not The Usual Name

The Navy's new cruiser, USS Canberra, is an exception to the rule that all cruisers are named after American cities. It was named for the gallant Australian cruiser Canberra, which went down along with three American cruisers in the Battle of Savo Island during World War II.

In FASHION now

Often the woman who works the hardest to be the "last word" in fashion ends up by being a somewhat over-dressed pathetic person. Not only this but she usually spends far too much money on clothes.

A smartly dressed woman does not wear full skirts just because the fashion designers have declared that full skirts are the thing to wear.

Find out what your most becoming lines are and stick to them. If you find you look good in the latest thing, wonderful! It will be fun to include one or two of these clothes.

This same rule applies to color. Just because one of the big fashion publications comes out saying, "Everything will be green this Fall," don't feel your blue dress is old hat, If green doesn't do anything for you, leave it alone.

Shoes that follow fashion to the letter are often more attractive. However, no matter how stylish a shoe is, if it is uncomfortable, the point is wasted. When your feet hurt, it shows in your face.

If big hats are the rage, by all means have one—if it is becoming. If you are a small person, it is very easy to become lost-looking, under too large a hat. Watch this very closely.

The whole point of fashion is to make a person look her best and keep her ego boosted up. When a person allows fad-type fashion to defeat this goal, money and time and effort are wasted.
